"Llwybr Newydd – New Path" Wales Transport Strategy Consultation

Options Considered/Reasons for Decision

On 17th November 2020, Welsh Government published its new draft transport strategy pledging a major reduction in carbon emissions from the transport network in Wales. The draft strategy, "Llwybr Newydd – New Path", aimed to shape Wales' transport system over the next two decades. It set out a range of new ambitions to reshape transport in Wales, including a new sustainable transport hierarchy that would help shape investments towards greener transport options. A consultation was launched which would run until 25 January 2021. The council drafted a response to the consultation process for approval and this was attached as Appendix to the report.

Transport emissions for Newport were higher than the Wales average therefore sustainable transport was a key area of focus for the Newport area and the draft consultation response proposed that the Council agreed with ethos of Llwybr Newydd – New Path.
